Subject: Dear County Commissioners Bingham and Eberlin.

Thank you for your effort to offer the citizens of Kootenai county (unincorporated) reasonable and prudent options regarding the enjoyment of THEIR property rights. It is sad to see the vast majority of those opposed consist in boilerplate e-mails that assume everyone will build substandard structures without the oversight of big brother bureaucracy. It is also sad that said vast majority belong to the cda assn. of realtors whose mission statement includes protection of property rights. see also Bylaws art.II sec.4. Apparently these members do not believe the building of a home on one's own property to be an inherent property right. Their arrogance is truly remarkable! Not are they only smarter but they pretend to be more concerned about the construction of a person's home than the actual person who will be spending the tens of thousands (100k or more) in the construction of THEIR own home. Their assumption that a small percentage of people who have worked hard enough and smart enough to save enough to build THEIR own home, are automatically going to flush THEIR life savings down the toilet by building a substandard home, amounts to saying we are just ignorant little children in need of a parens patriae government. I say small percentage because the vast majority of people will have to borrow in order to build and I do not know of any lending institution that will not require a building permit or at least certain certified inspections in keeping with standard building practices. I hope you will not cave in to these fearmongers who think freedom and liberty are dangerous. My preference of options are; (1) #4 (2)#2 (3) #1. Kudos to Mary White, Lorrie Erickson, Eric Pedersen, Sean Rogers, Brent Regan, oromatello, Miles Jackson, and anyone else (I might have missed in the flood of boilerplate e-mails) who supports freedom and liberty, not to mention the extra time and money a person would save that could be invested in a Real increase of property value. Thank you from George Ricks.
