Material Reuse Program

Material Reuse Program Guidelines:

Kootenai County Solid Waste operates two household hazardous waste collection facilities where residents can safely dispose of unused chemicals. Many of these products are new and/or usable but are no longer needed. Instead of processing these products through a contracted hazardous waste hauler, technicians sort and offer the useable material in a designated area for free. The guidelines of the Reuse program are:

- All participants must be 18 years of age or older.
- A material waiver must be filled out and signed before any product is taken.
- A maximum of 5 items per day.
- No loitering - 10 minute time limit.
- No commercial customers/only residential customers.
- Products cannot be resold or used for profit.

Program notes: While the quality or effectiveness of the products CANNOT be guaranteed, the technicians do their best to separate products for the Reuse program. Stock on hand of any product cannot be guaranteed. Product availability is based upon what is acquired from the public through the hazardous waste collection program.
